DRAFT RULES UNDER SECTION 13 OF THE CHOTA NAGPUR COMMUTATION ACT, IV(B O) OF 1897

Powers of Officers

1 In carrying out their duties under this Act, Revenue Officers shall have regard to the instructions of the Board of Revenue for the guidance of Revenue Officers so far as such instructions are consistent with the rules hereby prescribed.

2 In the performance of their duties under this Act, Revenue Officers shall, except where otherwise provided for by law or by these rules, be subject to the general direction and control of the Commissioner of the Division and of the Board of Revenue, and Revenue Officers other than District Officers shall, except when it is otherwise ordered by the Board of Revenue, be subject to the general direction and control of the District Officers.

3 Every Revenue Officer appointed under this Act is vested with—

- (a) All the powers of a Civil Court in the trial of suits so far as they are required for the purpose of making enquiries under the Act
- (b) Any power exerciseable by any officer under the Bengal Survey Act, V of 1875

Service of notices under section 4

4 Service of notices under section 4 of the Act shall ordinarily be effected in the manner prescribed for the service of a summons on a defendant by Act I (B C) of 1879 or other law locally in force.

Rules for the preparation and publication of records under Chapter II

5 The following processes will ordinarily be comprised in preparing a record of predial conditions or services attaching to lands, and in making a commutation of such conditions or services —

- (1) Identification of lands
- (2) Preparation of preliminary record
- (3) Attestation of the preliminary record and ascertainment of existing rents
- (4) Commutation of predial services or conditions
- (5) Preparation and publication of the draft record
- (6) Disposal of objections
- (7) Final publication of the record

6. If the local area of an estate for which the notification is issued under section 5 of the Act exceeds the area of a village, according to the revenue survey, the record shall be prepared for each such village. If it does not exceed such an area, the record shall be prepared for such local area or estate as is included in the notification.

7 When the landlord and tenant are agreed as to the lands which are subject to predial conditions or services, the lands shall be entered in the record according to such agreement.

8 If there is a dispute as to such lands, the Revenue Officer shall, after due enquiries, determine what lands shall be entered as subject to predial conditions or services.

9 If it be necessary for the purpose of identifying such lands, a map of the village, local area or estate may be prepared. It shall show the boundaries of all lands subject to predial services or conditions, and such other particulars as the Board may prescribe.

10 There shall be no measurement of lands or preparation of a map except under the orders of the Deputy Commissioner.

11 The record to be prepared under section 6 of the Act shall show for each village, local area or estate, the following particulars —

- (a) The pargana and thana
- (b) The name and residence of each landlord
- (c) The name, parentage, caste, and residence of each tenant.
- (d) The rent payable for the lands held by him at the time the record is being prepared
- (e) The lands, if any, subject to such predial conditions or services
- (f) A short description of such conditions or services
- (g) Commuted rent, if any, fixed for such conditions and services
- (h) Total money-rent fixed for each tenant

12 When the records referred to in rules 7 to 9 have been prepared, the Revenue Officer shall issue a notification fixing a day and place on and at which he will be present to attest and complete the record. Provided that no such date shall be less than one week from the date of the issue of the notification in any such village, nor shall any such place be more than three miles distant from any such village. The notification shall require all parties concerned to attend at the time and place specified, with statements of their respective claims and such evidence as they may have to offer in connection with the proceedings.

13 Such notification shall be published by proclamation and beat of drum, and by posting it in the presence of not less than two respectable inhabitants in some conspicuous place in each village to which it relates.

14 The Revenue Officer may also, at this or any other stage of the proceedings, take such additional measures, under the powers conferred on him by rule 3 above, as may seem to him necessary, to procure the attendance, at any time and place fixed for the enquiry, of any witness or the production of any evidence that may appear to him desirable.

15 On the date specified in the notification to be issued under rule 13, or on any other date to which the proceedings have been adjourned, the entries which have been recorded for each tenant shall be read out in the presence of such of the interested parties as are in attendance. The particulars as to the predial conditions and services, to which any lands are subject, and the existing rent of the tenant's holding shall be summarily ascertained and entered. If the correctness of any entry or the omission of any entry is disputed, the Revenue Officer shall enquire into and summarily dispose of any matter in dispute, after recording, if necessary, the evidence tendered on either side and making such further local or other enquiry as he may deem desirable to enable him to come to a correct finding. He shall record a separate proceeding in each case of dispute.

16 The Revenue Officer shall then, if required, proceed to fix the rent which shall be deemed payable in respect of such predial conditions and services, and shall enter it and the total rent of the holding so ascertained on the preliminary record.

17 When the entries have been made and attested in accordance with the preceding rules, the Revenue Officer shall record a proceeding in which he shall state that the attestation of the preliminary record is complete, and shall prepare the draft of the record required by section 6 of the Act in the annexed form.

18 On completion of the draft record in the manner directed above, the Revenue Officer shall cause a notice to be published in the village by beat of drum, and to be posted in the landlord's village office, or in the presence of not less than two persons in some conspicuous place in the village, stating that the draft of the record will be published on a day to be specified not less than a week from the date of such notice, and calling on all persons interested to attend on the date so specified.

19 On the date fixed for draft publication, the Revenue Officer shall either proceed to the village himself, and read out the contents of the record in the presence of the parties who attend or he shall depute an officer, not below the rank of kanungo, who shall read out the contents of the record in the presence of so many of the parties as attend, and the Revenue Officer, or officer deputed by him, as the case may be, shall at the same time inform the parties who attend that the draft record will be open for inspection for not less than one month in the office of the Revenue Officer, or in such other convenient place as the Revenue Officer may determine. The Revenue Officer shall receive and consider any objection which may be made to any entry in the record or to the omission of any entry therefrom during the period named.

20 When an objection is made before the expiry of the period of publication of the draft record prescribed under rule 19 above, regarding the correctness of an entry in the record or the propriety of any omission therefrom, notice of the objection shall be served on all persons whose interests may, in the opinion of the Revenue Officer, be affected thereby, and they shall be called upon to attend at such time and place as the Revenue Officer may fix for the disposal of the objection. If the objection is contested, the Revenue Officer shall enquire into the case, and after taking evidence, if necessary, or making such inquiry as he thinks necessary, shall dispose of it as provided in rule 16. If no person attends to contest the objection, the record may be amended accordingly, or the person who made the objection may, if the Revenue Officer thinks fit, be called upon to produce evidence in support of his objection.

21 When all objections have been disposed of by the Revenue Officer, he shall record such corrections and additions, if any, as are required to carry out the orders passed in regard to these objections. He shall then finally frame the record, and cause it to be published by notifying that its contents will be read out in the village on a date to be specified not less than a week from the date of such notice, and by reading it out himself or causing it to be read in the village on the date so specified, in the manner prescribed in rule 19 in the presence of the parties or of so many of them as attend.

22 (a) The Revenue Officer having completed the record shall cause copies of it to be made, one of which, or extracts from which, will be made over to the landlord concerned or, where there are more landlords than one, to their common agent or common manager, as the case may be, and one to the Deputy Commissioner of the district.

(b) An extract from the record relating to his tenancy shall be given to every tenant under the seal of the Revenue Officer, and under the signature of an officer duly authorised by the Revenue Officer to give copies.

- (c) Copies of the record or of extracts from the record supplied to landlords and tenants under this rule shall be given free or on payment according as, in the case of each local area, the Local Government may direct. When payment is required, the sums so recovered shall be adjusted against the expenses incurred on account of preparing the record.

23 The Local Government may, if it thinks fit, direct that a final report be written in English for each local area, estate or village for which a record has been prepared. The report will show—

- (a) The number of tenants in such area and the total area of lands held by them, distinguishing those subject to predial conditions and services and those not subject
- (b) A description of the predial conditions and services and of the method in which their value has been commuted, if commutation has been ordered
- (c) The rents payable by the tenants before and after commutation
- (d) Any other facts deserving of notice affecting the area for which a record has been prepared
- (e) The costs of preparing the record in accordance with these rules

If the area for which the record has been prepared exceeds the area of a village, a general report may be prepared as above for the whole area.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

By DR GEO WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products

The first five volumes and Vol VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing No 8, Hastings Street Calcutta and will be supplied to non subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made) packing and postage in India 8 annas per volume, for England Rs 2 6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral, each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names, habitat or source, history, properties and uses (both chemical and industrial), trade statistics, markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically.

according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product, even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo pages, Vol II embraces the letter C in 689 pages. Vol III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV latter half of G to middle of L, and Vol V contains the latter half of L to end of O. Vol VI (which consist of four parts) Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol VI) but a tenth volume has been issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index is practically a Glossary of the Vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and as such is a work of reference, which, it is hoped, will prove of considerable value.

Read again—

The Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1896-97, with the Resolution recorded thereon

THE Botanic Garden has not yet fully recovered from the drought of the last two years. Among the more delicate plants the orchids suffered especially, and most of them came into flower too early and produced but scanty blossoms. On the other hand the unusual conditions proved most beneficial to a number of exotics, and several species flowered, which had before produced nothing but leaves. The Clarke and Thompson avenues were thoroughly repaired during the year, and the Roxburgh Avenue and the road leading from the banyan tree to the Andul Road will be taken in hand as soon as funds permit. Visitors to the Garden were more numerous than ever, and it was found necessary on this account to make some additions to the Garden rules.

2. Plants of an economic value received especial attention. In the cold weather Dr. Prain commenced the study of the various kinds of pulses and other leguminous crops cultivated in Bengal, but as the subject is a large one, it could not be brought to completion in one season. The results of a series of experiments on the cultivation of rhea-seed were inconclusive, but they tended to show that seed derived from plants grown in Lower Bengal is very often infertile. At the request of the Reporter on Economic Products to the Government of India, certain of the varieties of cotton were experimentally cultivated, and the same officer supplied a number of tubers, bulbs, and seeds of plants of economic interest to be cultivated and determined, after they had flowered and fruited. In this way, Dr. Prain reports, the sources of a considerable number of economic products, the origin of which was unknown or doubtful, have been definitely ascertained, and this branch of study is about to be developed.

3 The collection in the Herbarium was increased by 9,475 specimens, the chief donors being Mr Thiselton-Dyer, Director of the Royal Garden, Kew, Mr Duthie, Director of the Botanical Department, Northern India, Dr Watt, Reporter on the Economic Products to the Government of India; Dr. Treub, Director of the Botanic Garden at Buitenzorg in Java; and Mr. Murray, Keeper of the Botanical Department, British Museum. An interesting collection of plants from Algeria was received from Sir H Collett, and one from Natal from Mr Medley Wood, while collections of plants from Mexico and from Florida were acquired by purchase. Contributions were also received from Dr Gunther Beck von Mannagetta, Surgeon-Major Johnston, Surgeon-Captain Milne, Mr Woodrow, the Hon'ble Mr James, Mr Lace and Mr. Maries. An addition, that is especially noteworthy, was that of a collection, which had been made in the hitherto unexplored Kachin Hills by Lieutenant Pottinger and by a botanical collector who was deputed to that region. Sir George King presented the garden with a collection of European mosses, and Mr Gamble with a collection of bamboos and economic leguminous plants from Sikkim. The number of specimens of plants sent out from the Garden to the chief herbaria of Europe, America and Asia amounted to 14,482.

4 The chief work of the year was the completion of an account of the Orchids of Sikkim by Sir George King and Mr Pantling. This constitutes one of the finest contributions to systematic and regional botany that has recently appeared. Some valuable papers on botanical subjects were also published by Sir George King and Dr Prain, the contributions of the latter officer including a "Note on the mustards in Bengal," to which reference was made in the Resolution on last year's report.

5 Nothing of especial note occurred at the Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling, during the year. A piece of ground hitherto used as a Municipal Vegetable garden has been made over to the Superintendent of the Garden, and the question of utilising it is under consideration. Steps are being taken to bring together in the Garden complete collections of the Eastern Himalayan species of particular natural families.

6 Sir George King, the Superintendent of the Garden, was compelled by ill health to retire at the end of February last. He had been in charge of the Garden since July 1871, and his brilliant services have been acknowledged by Government in a separate Resolution. The Lieutenant-Governor desires also to thank Sir George King's successor, Surgeon-Major Prain, for his efficient management of the departments under his care, and for the interesting report submitted by him.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1897-98.

No 25G., dated Royal Botanic Garden, Sibpur, the 10th May 1898

From—SURGEON-MAJOR D. PRAIN, M.B., F.R.S.E., F.L.S., I.M.S., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the 111th Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1897-98.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1897-98

THE effects of the scanty rainfall of two successive seasons, detailed in the opening paragraph of the Annual Report for 1896-97, were, if possible, more marked in the months of April and May 1897 than they had been in the corresponding months of the two preceding years, and though at the end of the last rainy season the conditions were more nearly normal than they had been at any time during a period of twenty months, the effects on the vegetation have not even yet disappeared. Those effects have been, as usual, most marked in the case of delicate plants, and especially in the case of the orchids which have been more unsatisfactory even than last year, most of the kinds have come into flower abnormally early, the blossoms being unusually scanty and evanescent. On the other hand, a number of exotic plants that do not as a rule flower freely have found the abnormal conditions suitable, and many American species in particular, that usually produce leaves only, have been in full flower. The profuse flowering of a large Aristolochia (A. gigas) has been one of the features of the season, and the show of Browneas and Amherstias in the Thomson avenue was particularly fine. This avenue, along with the Clarke avenue, was, as mentioned in the last annual report, taken in hand just before the commencement of the year, and, in spite of much sickness among the garden staff, both avenues were brought into an excellent state of repair during the course of the rains, the banks at their sides being put into proper order during the cold weather. The only two roads that still urgently call for attention are the Roxburgh avenue and the unfinished road which leads from the large Banyan to the Andul Road, but both must lie over until funds are available, as must the much needed fern conservatory and the almost equally urgently called for glazed plant-house. The increased number of visitors to the Garden and the difficulty of dealing with cases of violation of the garden rules, has made it necessary to address Government, asking for sanction to certain additional rules. This sanction has been accorded, and Government is further taking steps to give these rules the force of bye laws.

2. Economic plants.—During the cold weather a commencement was made by the Curator of the Herbarium with a study of the various kinds of pulses and other leguminous crops cultivated in Bengal, samples of which were procured by the Director of Land Records and Agriculture, and sown in the Sibpur Experimental Farm adjoining the garden. This study may, when completed, lead to the preparation of a note similar in nature to the notes already prepared on the wheats and the mustards of Bengal. Being, however, a larger subject than those, it has been impossible to complete the study of the pulses in a single season. A series of experiments in the cultivation of rhea-seed was undertaken by the Curator of the Garden, the results were not conclusive, but they went to show that rhea-seed from plants grown in Lower Bengal is very often infertile. The seed used was partly the produce of plants grown in the garden, and partly seed supplied by Ashington Thomson, Esq., Chandernagore. The experimental culture of a number of varieties of cotton was also undertaken at the request of the Reporter on Economic Products.

to the Government of India. A number of tubers, bulbs and seeds of plants of economic interest were received during the year from the Reporter on Economic Products in order to be cultivated and, when they had flowered and fruited, determined. In this way the sources of a considerable number of economic products that were hitherto of unknown or doubtful origin have been definitely ascertained. Many of the results have been quite unexpected, and by mutual arrangement between the Garden, on the one hand, and the Department of the Reporter on Economic Products with the Government of India, and the Indigenous Drugs Committee on the other, this branch of study will be considerably developed, and promises to be of the greatest interest and utility.

3. Herbarium—The work in the Herbarium was carried on in the usual manner, although the severe illness both of the Superintendent of the Garden and of the Curator of the Herbarium during the months of August, September and October interfered very considerably with its efficiency. Nevertheless during the year no fewer than 14,482 specimens of carefully-named plants were distributed to the chief herbaria of Europe, America and Asia, this distribution included 13 sets of authentic specimens of the orchids of Sikkim figured in the eighth volume of the Annals of the Royal Botanic Garden. During the year 9,475 specimens were added to the collection. The chief donors to the Herbarium were Mr. W. T. Thiselton-Dyer, Director of the Royal Garden, Kew, who gave 957 specimens, Mr. J. F. Duthie, Director of the Botanical Department, Northern India, who contributed 1,207, Dr. G. Watt, Reporter on Economic Products to the Government of India, who added 1,158, Dr. M. Tieub, Director of the Botanical Garden at Buitenzorg in Java, who gave 579, and Mr G. R. M. Murray, Keeper of the Botanical Department, British Museum, who contributed 575. An interesting collection of plants from Algeria was presented by Sir H. Collett, and one from Natal by Mr. Medley Wood, collections of plants from Mexico and from Florida were acquired by purchase, Dr. Gunther Beck von Mannagetta contributed a third instalment of Cryptogamic specimens from the Vienna Hofmuseum. Small but interesting collections of North-West Frontier plants were received from Surgeon-Major H. H. Johnston and Surgeon-Captain C. J. Milne, and of plants of Western India from Mr. G. M. Woodrow and the Hon. H. E. M. James. Mr. Lace of the Forest Department contributed a very excellent collection from the Punjab Himalaya, and Mr. C. Maies a small collection from the neighbourhood of Naini Tal. A valuable collection of bamboos and of economic leguminous plants was made in Sikkim during the year, and presented to the Herbarium by Mr. G. A. Gammie. Sir George King on his departure presented to the Herbarium a small but very interesting collection of European mosses. One of the features of the year has been the receipt of a collection made in the hitherto unexplored Kachin Hills by Lieutenant E. Pottinger, R.A., and by a botanical collector whom thanks to the exertions of Lieutenant Pottinger and the kindness of Lieutenant Cruddas, s.c., Commandant of the Battalion of Military Police at Myitkyina, it has been possible to depute to this very rich and interesting region. The result of a year's work in this area have been made the subject of a joint note by Lieutenant Pottinger and myself, which is about to appear in the Records of the Botanical Survey of India.

4. Botanical Publications.—The great work of the year has been the completion of an account of the Orchids of Sikkim by Sir George King and Mr. R. Pantling. Mr. Pantling had for many years devoted his leisure to making drawings from the living plants of those orchids to be met with in and near the Cinchona Plantations, and, being strongly recommended thereto by Sir George King, ultimately systematised his efforts into a project for providing a life sized figure of the plant, accompanied by analyses of the parts of the flower on an enlarged scale, of every orchid found within the limits of Sikkim from the Terai to the snows, in order to illustrate a complete account of the orchid flora of Sikkim. Mr. Pantling having provided the drawings, these were lithographed, under Sir George King's supervision, in Calcutta, by natives of Bengal trained at the Government School of Art. A certain number of these lithographs, printed more lightly than the rest, have been partly coloured, under the careful supervision of Mr. Pantling, by the sons of Nepalese coolies on the Cinchona Plantation. The work constitutes one of the most magnificent and valuable contributions to systematic and regional botany that has recently appeared Sir George King has likewise published, in conjunction with Mr. Pantling, a paper in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, entitled Some New Indo-Malayan Orchids, this deals with hitherto undescribed species, chiefly from Burma and from Malaya, met with in the course of their comparative study of the Sikkim species. In the same journal Sir George King has also published the tenth part of his Materials for a Flora of the Malayan Peninsula. During the year I published, as Curator of the Herbarium, the following papers.—Novise Indice XV, XVI (some additional Leguminosæ, more additional species of Labiatæ) in the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal; A New Curcuma from the Deccan, in the Journal of the Bombay Natural History Society. For the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, A Note on the mustards cultivated in Bengal was prepared, and a Précis of the Literature of the Australian Wheat rust Conference, 1890-96, was drawn up for the Government of India in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture.

5 Library.—The usual periodicals were added, and a number of books were obtained, partly by purchase and partly in exchange for the Annals of the Garden.

6 Interchange of plants and seeds.—The details of the receipts and issues of plants and seeds during the year are fully given in Appendices I—IV. The smaller total of issues as compared with 1896-97 (36,885 in place of 54,874) is due to a smaller demand for plants of Rhea, the greater number of those interested in the cultivation of this crop having apparently obtained in former years as many plants as they require. The plants received numbered 15,212, and included some very interesting and valuable species from Kew, with a fine collection of rarities from Hongkong, Singapore and Penang, communicated by Mr. Lane, and a few rare plants from Colombo obtained by myself.

In connection with the researches of Sir George King into the orchid flora of India at large, considerable collections of the smaller and less showy species, overlooked by the regular "orchid-hunter," but quite as interesting botanically as the handsomer commercial kinds, have been received from various friendly contributors in Burma and elsewhere. One-half of each such contribution is always despatched to the Cinchona Plantation, to be attended to by Mr. Pantling, since the more temperate conditions that prevail there often ensure success in flowering species that fail to survive at Calcutta. Of seeds, 1,116 packets were received, and 2,177 were distributed during the year.

7. The earthquake that occurred on 12th June 1897 did considerable damage to the roof of the Herbarium. The extent was not, however, apparent till a heavy rainstorm occurred a few days after the earthquake, when the whole building became flooded with rain-water to the detriment of all and the complete destruction of some of its valuable contents. The officers of the Department of Public Works, though overwhelmed with similar work, at once realized that, while the building was structurally quite safe, the effects of roof leakage on the priceless collection it contains might be disastrous, and promptly took steps to render it comparatively water-tight. The quarters of the Superintendent suffered greater structural damage, and the repairs that were necessary occupied several months. The only other building in the Garden that suffered severely was the cupola that protects Dr. Roxburgh's monument.

8. Lloyd Botanic Garden.—There is nothing of outstanding interest to record in connection with this garden for the year under review. The patch of ground referred to in the last annual report as about to be added to the Garden has been made over to the Superintendent of the Botanical Garden by the Municipality, but the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division, while admitting that the transfer is valid and in order, has advised that effective occupation be deferred pending the settlement of a new proposal in which the Eden Sanitarium is concerned. It is to be hoped that the matter may soon be disposed of. With a view to fulfilling the purpose for which it was originally established, steps are being taken to bring together in the garden complete collections of Eastern Himalayan species of particular natural families.

9 The budget allotments of money both for the Calcutta and the Lloyd Botanic Garden have been fully spent. The proceeds of the sales of surplus plants and books, amounting to Rs. 1,106-3-3 for the Calcutta garden and to Rs. 900 for the Darjeeling one, were paid into the Government treasuries as usual.

10 The year was marked by much sickness, the Superintendent, the Curator of the Herbarium, the Curator of the garden and the Assistant Curator being all incapacitated by malarial fever at one and the same time, the only officer to escape being the Probationer Gardener who joined the garden staff during the preceding year. The most untoward result of this severe and prolonged sickness was that Sir George King, the Superintendent of the Garden, acting under medical advice, was compelled to ask for permission to retire from the service of Government, with effect from the 28th February 1898, on which date he made over charge of the gardens of which he has had control since 10th July 1871, and which he has practically made what they are. By reason of sickness I was, as Curator of the Herbarium, absent on privilege leave for 23 days from 5th to 27th November, and the Curator of the garden, Mr. G. T. Lane, had to proceed on sick leave to Europe for eight months on 7th March 1898. Mr. Lane's duties are being performed by Mr. H. J. Davies, Assistant Curator, while Mr. G. H. Cave, fourth Assistant, Cinchona Plantation, Mungpoo, is acting as Assistant Curator in place of Mr. Davies. Mr. Kennedy, Curator of the Lloyd Botanic Garden, availed himself of three months' privilege leave from 13th December 1897 to 12th March 1898, during his absence his duties were performed by Mr. A. C. Hartless, third Assistant, Cinchona Plantation, in addition to his own. The office of the Botanic Garden has been under the charge of Babu G. C. Datta throughout the year.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP FOR 1898

The following is published for general information.

Secy to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.First forecast of the jute crop in Bengal for season 1898*

Explanatory.—The present report shows the estimate of the crop made by District Officers up to the middle of June. It embraces returns from 26 districts of these Provinces, in which jute forms an important crop. Jute is also grown elsewhere, but to such a small extent that the area cultivated outside these 26 districts may be left out of consideration. The figures of normal area in column 3 have been revised with reference to the actual areas sown during the past five years. A percentage notation of outturn has been followed in columns 6 and 7 in accordance with instructions received from the Government of India. Under this system, 100 represents the normal outturn per acre, or what has hitherto been described as a 16-anna crop.

2. Character of the season.—In January, the rainfall in most of the jute-growing districts was in excess of the normal. In February, rain was scanty in all jute districts, except in parts of North Bengal and in Malda. In March and April, the rainfall was generally deficient, and in May it was a little below the normal in most parts of the Province. During the first-half of June, rain was more or less general over the Province.

3. Area cultivated—According to the revised estimates shown in column 3 of the appended statement, it will be seen that the total normal area under jute amounts to 2,224,300 acres. The total area sown with jute during the current season appears, from column 5 of the same statement, to amount to 1,670,100 acres against 2,147,400 acres sown in 1897. The decrease in area, amounting to 477,300 acres (22 per cent), is due partially to the deficiency of rain during the sowing season, and partially to the low prices of jute last year and to the high prices of paddy, which have induced many cultivators to grow the latter crop in preference to jute. This reduction in area is common to all the more important jute-growing districts, the same causes being assigned by the Collectors of all those districts. It is doubtful perhaps, whether the natural expansion of jute cultivation has not to some extent counterbalanced the discouragement caused by the low prices of last year, but as far as can be seen at present, there has been a considerable contraction in area which should cause a marked reduction in outturn in the present year.

4 Character of the crop.—The prospects of the crop do not appear so far to be as favourable as those of last year. Out of the 26 districts from which reports have been received, 15 return worse crops, 6 return equal crops and 5 districts (including only one important jute-growing district, viz, Rangpur), return better crops. It may be roughly estimated that the outturn will prove 90 per cent of a normal crop. The outturn last year was estimated by this Department at 106 per cent over a larger area. It should be noted, however, that the present rains are doing much good to the standing jute, and if the weather continues favourable for the next two months, and floods do not damage the crop, there may be some improvement in the outturn.

5. Gross outturn.—Taking into consideration the estimates of area and outturn as now furnished by District Officers, and assuming 1,200 lbs. per acre to be the estimate of normal outturn, i.e., of a 100 per cent crop, the gross outturn of the present season's crop may be estimated at 48 lakhs of bales. It will be understood that this is a rough estimate based on the information available to this Department, and if, as stated above, the season continues favourable, the outturn may exceed this amount. It may be also stated that from reports received from District Officers, it would appear that a fairly large quantity of jute is left in the districts from the crop of 1897.

										* Estimated by this Department

The decrease in the area sown this year is due to want of timely rainfall, and to the dulness of the jute market. The low outturn is due to want of seasonable rain.

The jute market was very dull last year, hence a large area previously under jute has been cultivated with paddy as being more profitable. The decrease in the area sown this year, as compared with that of the preceding year, is due to the fall in the price of jute last year, which, as well as the high price of rice, inclined the cultivators to utilize jute lands for sowing paddy. Owing to timely rain the whole of last year's area has been brought under cultivation. In certain localities the sowing has not yet begun, and an increase of area in the final report is probable. Sowing is so much later in this district than in Bengal that it is impossible to make any estimate of the outturn approximating to accuracy and it has, therefore, been shown as normal. The decrease in the outturn is due to want of sufficient rain at the time of the growth of the plants.

ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BENGAL METEOROLOGICAL DEPARTMENT FOR 1897 98

The following report is published for general information

M. FINUCANE,

The 1st July 1898.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal

1 DURING the whole of the past year the Bengal Meteorological Department has been under my control.

2 There have been no important changes in the administration of the Department during the year under review

3 There has been no increase or decrease in the number of observatories under my direct control. The number of observatories was 48 on the 31st March 1898. Out of this number there were 11 second class observatories recording observations at 8 A.M., 10 A.M., and 4 P.M., 32 third class observatories recording one set of observations at 8 A.M. only, and 5 voluntary observatories.

4. The following table gives the names and distribution of these 48 observatories —

5. During the past year observations were received from the following observatories by order of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India. In the case of the Assam stations named in column 1 below, weather telegrams were received during the period May to October, and for the remainder of the year reports were received on post-card forms. All other stations sent weather telegrams throughout the year —

6 10 A M meteorological observations were as usual recorded at the observatory situated at the Calcutta Meteorological office. They were published weekly in the Calcutta Gazette throughout the year, as also monthly abstracts.

7 Inspection of observatories.—Four observatories only were inspected during the past year, viz., Mymensingh and Narayanganj, by Babu Jati Lal De, Barisal, by Babu Rakhal Das Chakrabarti, a clerk of the Bengal Meteorological office, and Chittagong, by Lala Hem Raj, Personal Assistant to the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.

Narayanganj—It was visited on the 17th and 18th September. The observatory was found to be in very good condition. Mr. E. O'Daugherty, Telegraph Master, continued to be the observer.

Mymensingh.—The observatory was visited on the 19th and 20th September. On the whole the observatory was in good condition.

Barisal—It was visited on the 20th and 21st October. The chief object of the visit was to train a new observer. At the time of the inspection the observatory was in good condition.

Chittagong.—It was visited on the 31st January. The Inspection Report showed that the condition of the observatory in charge of Mr. E. Bocarro, Deputy Telegraph Master, was good.

8 Without occasional visits of inspection it is impossible to keep the observers up to the required standard of efficiency. As very few of these visits have been made during the past eighteen months, the observations are beginning to be affected. In my opinion there is at present a falling off as regards accuracy, and I trust it will be possible during the present or coming year for the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India to allot funds for a thorough inspection of the observatories in Bengal.

9 There have been several changes of observers during the past year, and, as a result of this, erroneous observations were recorded by some of the new observers. Certain rules were framed by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India during the past year with a view to prevent incompetent men being appointed observers, but considering the fact that the observers are subordinates of other departments, the Meteorological Department has very little control over them, and hence neither the frequent change of observers nor the consequent bad observations can be avoided. It may, however, be mentioned that on the whole the character of the observations submitted showed that generally the observers were careful in reading the instruments and recording the observations.

10 Second class observatories—There are eleven observatories of this class, of which two were inspected during the past year, viz., Chittagong and Narayanganj. They were found to be in good condition at the time of the inspection. The observations submitted by the observer at Narayanganj have been accurate throughout the year. No other observatories of this class were inspected, but judging from the observations submitted, it may be mentioned that, with the exception of Darjeeling, False Point, and Saugor Island, the observers at all other observatories did good work. It may be mentioned here that anemograph observations were discontinued at Darjeeling from 1st January 1898 under orders of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, and the observer's allowance was reduced to Rs 18 per month.

11 Third class observatories.—Of the 32 observatories of this class, only two were inspected during the past year. Mymensingh was found to be in good condition at the time of inspection. In October last the observer at Barisal, who was a signaller of the local combined post and telegraph office, was transferred, and the newly appointed observer submitted such inaccurate readings at a time when weather was particularly unsettled that I had to depute a clerk of my office (Babu Rakhal Das Chakrabarti) to train the observer. The observer was thoroughly trained, and there have been few mistakes since then. Of the remaining observatories, the observers at Bogra, Dinajpur, Krishnagar, Malda, and Meerapore submitted accurate observations throughout the year. The most careless observers were those at Jalpaiguri, Motihari, and Muzaffarpur. The observers at other stations generally did good work, though after a change of observers at Bahadur, Chaibassa, and Sirugany occasional mistakes were made by the officiating men.

12 Voluntary observatories.—The number of voluntary observatories on 31st March last was five. Very accurate observations were received from the Maharaja's observatory at Cooch Behar and from the observatory at Shortt's Island (under Mr. Tasker) Dr. Rajmohan Banerji, Civil Medical Officer, continued to be the Superintendent of the Daltonganj observatory, and the improvement in the character of the observations noticed in last year's Administration Report has been maintained. Meteorological work was continued at Lungleh and Demaguri.

13 A number of observatories in North-East Bengal suffered during the earth-quake of 12th June 1897. The buildings over which the anemometer and wind-vane were exposed at Bogra and Sirajganj were injured to such an extent as to render further observations of the instruments impracticable. The building at Sirajganj was repaired by the Public Works Department, and wind observations commenced from 22nd January 1898. An iron tower is being provided for the instruments at Bogra. The upper storey of the post-office building at Rangpur and the Zilla School at Mymensingh were totally wrecked, and the wind instruments were destroyed. New instruments were supplied and brought into use at Rangpur from 22nd January 1898 and arrangements are in progress to put up new instruments on the Hardinge School at Mymensingh. At Darjeeling the room where the barometer was located was badly damaged and the instrument had to be removed elsewhere. Rampur Boalia suffered too, and the wind instruments had to be refixed in another position on the roof of the post-office building. At Cooch Behar the hospital building was badly injured, but the barometer was safely removed. With the exception of the wind instruments at Rangpur and Mymensingh, no other instruments were injured.

14 By direction of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, special meteorological observations were recorded by all departmental observers on the occasion of the solar eclipse of 22nd January 1898. The Superintendents readily co-operated, and observations were taken in some places at great personal inconvenience both to the observer and the Superintendent, as they had to be taken at intervals of 5 or 10 minutes from 10 A.M. to 5 P.M. Special awards were made by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India varying in amount from Rs. 2 to Rs. 15. Awards were also made for storm and hot-wind observations. The following table will show the amount of award granted by the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India.—

15 Work at, and inspection of rain-gauge stations—The number of rain-gauge stations on the 31st March 1898 was 330. Six new stations, viz, Kahganj, Dainuria, Kalaroa, and Paikgacha (in Khulna district), Chausa (in Shahabad), and Ramnagar (in Champaran) were started, and four stations, viz, Semitagarh, Mahudi Hills and Jhumra Hills (in Hazaribagh district), and Chandpur (in Chittagong) were closed during the past year.

The Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India in his Administration Report for 1896-97 having complained of the small number of inspection visits made to rain gauge stations in Bengal during that year, the Government of Bengal in their circular No 12 Agri (Revenue Department), dated 6th December 1897, again impressed upon the District officers the necessity of more frequent inspection of rain-gauges. From inspection reports received in this office it appears that 106 stations out of 330 were visited in 1897-98 as against 95 in 1896-97 and 101 in 1895-96. Some of the stations were visited more than once. In this way 164 visits of inspection were made to the rain-gauge stations. I have again to state that Dr. Kelly and Dr. Crawford have inspected almost all the rain-gauges in their respective districts (Sonthal Parganas and Monghyr) during the year, and it is interesting to note that the returns received from these two districts were most accurate.

The following table shows the distribution of the 330 rainfall stations in the various districts in Bengal as it stood on 31st March 1898 and the number of stations inspected in each district during the past year—

16 Departmental reports—The short annual report on the meteorology of Bengal in the year 1898, with two maps illustrating the actual and percentage rainfall, was prepared and submitted to the Government of Bengal on the 21st August 1897 for incorporation in the Bengal Administration Report.

The report on the meteorology of Bengal for the monsoon season of 1897 was prepared and submitted to Government with the usual number of illustrative charts prepared by hand. It was submitted to the Government of Bengal on the 4th January 1898.

The monthly rainfall table of Bengal and the meteorological table of Bengal and Assam continued to be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The charts showing the distribution of actual rainfall, the variation from the normal, and the percentage rainfall in Bengal were prepared by hand during the monsoon season, viz., May to October 1897, and submitted to the Government of Bengal and the Sanitary Commissioner of Bengal.

The Bay of Bengal and Bengal daily weather report dealing with the observations taken at 64 meteorological observatories was published from 1st May to 31st October. It was then replaced by the Bay of Bengal report dealing with observations taken at 28 stations, which report was published during the rest of the year. Both the reports were published daily, including Sundays and holidays, and were delivered to the subscribers in Calcutta between 11 and 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Sanction was obtained during the past year to include the observations recorded at Daltonganj and Cooch Behar in the Bengal Daily Weather Report issued by this office, commencing from the monsoon season of 1898.

17 The daily flag-signal message to Saugor Island and the daily weather telegram to the Port authorities at Madras, Akyab, Rangoon, Moulmein, Negapatam, and Cocopada were continued throughout the year. This weather telegram was sent to the Port Officer, Chittagong, from 16th May to 15th November as usual.

18. The system of forwarding meteorological information from the pilot-boats at the Sandheads by flag hoists and that of forwarding a telegraphic summary of the weather experienced by Commanders of the steamers of the British India Steam Navigation Company during their voyages from Madras to Rangoon, Calcutta to Rangoon, etc., have been continued.

19 The thanks of the Department are due to the tea and indigo planters, to the Moravian missionaries at Pedong, and to Mr. Hobson of Yatung (in Tibet), who have kindly sent rainfall returns during the past year. The thanks of the Department are due to the Surveyor-General, Ceylon, for sending meteorological observations taken at Colombo and Trincomalee for the daily weather report and to Messrs Mackinnon, Mackenzie and Company, the Agents of the British India Steam Navigation Company, for allowing the Commanders of their vessels to telegraph the summary of the weather experienced during their voyages.

20 Under instructions from the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India, the Superintendent of Telegraphs, Madras Division, and the Traffic Manager, East Coast Railway, Bezwada, were added to the list of officers who receive warnings of storms in the Bay.

21. Warnings of expected heavy rainfall were sent to—

The Superintending Engineer, Orissa Circle, Cuttack
The Executive Engineer, Cossye Division, Midnapore
Ditto, Jajpur Division, Akhoyapada
Ditto, Balasore Division, Balasore.

22 Information of the occurrence of heavy rainfall at certain stations in Bengal was sent by telegram to the District Engineer, Roopnarain district, Bengal-Nagpur Railway, at Kola.

23 Storm Signals.—At the instance of the Meteorological Reporter to the Government of India a revised scheme of storm signals for general use except on the river Hooghly was sanctioned by the Government of India, and orders were issued to introduce the new arrangement of storm signals from 1st April 1898. The revised scheme was published for general information in the Calcutta Gazette of the 12th January 1898 as Marine Department notification dated 11th January 1898.

24 The dates of the principal storms and barometric depressions occurring during the past year are given in the first of the two following tables, and the action taken in the matter of issuing storm warnings and hoisting storm signals is indicated in the second of these tables.

25 It may here be mentioned that during the destructive cyclone of 24th October the observatory sheds at Lungleh and Chittagong were damaged, and the wind instruments on the roof of the Chittagong telegraph office were destroyed. The thermometric observations at Chittagong had to be suspended till 19th January 1898, when the instruments were replaced in position on the reconstruction of the shed. At Lungleh the thermometers were placed under a shed in one of the outskirts of the hospital, and observations taken there till 23rd February 1898. On the 24th February they were removed to the newly built shed on the old site

Table giving a brief statement of the storms which affected the Bay of Bengal coasts during the year 1897-98

Number of storm	Period of depression or storm	Character of storm	Coast affected
1	2	3	4
1	June 15th to 18th	Shallow depression shown over the north of the Bay on the 15th, with a faint cyclonic circulation of winds. On the 16th the centre of the depression was close to the Orissa coast. The centre passed between Balasore and False Point between the 16th and 17th, and was in the west of Chota Nagpur on the 18th. The depression was too shallow to cause stormy weather in the north of the Bay, but as it crossed Orissa heavy rain was general, and stormy weather prevailed over the Province.	Orissa coast
2	July 6th to 9th	Shallow depression commencing in the east of the Bay about the 5th continued to develop slowly on the 6th and 7th, and the centre was close to the Orissa coast on the morning of the 8th. The cyclonic circulation of winds was regular, but they attained to no more than moderate strength. The centre was more to the north on the 9th near Saugor Island. The depression then moved rapidly westward, and as it had been slight, it soon ceased to influence weather in Bengal even in the western districts.	Ditto
3	September 6th to 9th	Shallow depression developed over Lower Bengal and the adjacent part of the Bay on the 6th. On the 8th it was causing a well defined cyclonic circulation with a centre near False Point, where defect was greatest, but not much more than 1 inch. On the 9th it was over Ganjam, and was filling up or becoming diffused.	Orissa and Bengal coasts
4	September 20th to 24th	This depression was not well defined on the 20th and 21st, but a brisk fall in the south east of the Bay on the 22nd gave lowest pressure in that part, and it rapidly developed into a rather deep depression of small extent. There was nothing to show the character of the storm on the 23rd except the changes at Diamond Island in wind force and direction, as it had moved north westward and was probably near the centre of the Bay. Early on the 24th the centre crossed the coast near Gopulpur. The strongest winds occurred at Puri between 4 and 6 A.M., the average velocity for the two hours being little under 60 miles an hour.	Orissa and Ganjam coasts
5	September 29th to October 3rd	Barometric depression which was in process of formation in the south of the Bay about the 28th of September, and which became the most important feature of weather conditions over a great part of the country during the first few days of October. In the early part of October, it slowly developed into a disturbance of very wide extent, moving westward with a velocity considerably below the average while over the sea. The centre crossed the coast near Gopulpur and immediately afterwards changed its line of movement to one almost due north, and passing with a steadily increasing velocity across Orissa and Chota Nagpur into Bihar broke up on reaching the hills.	Orissa and Ganjam coasts
6	October 12th to 17th	Barometric depression which began in the east of the Bay, and though causing strong winds at Diamond Island and squally weather over the greater part of the eastern half of the Bay, it disappeared without any definite centre reaching the west coast.	Orissa and Bengal coasts

7	October 20th to 24th ..	This disturbance does not seem to have commenced, as cyclonic storms generally do, within the Bay area. It probably crossed from the east into the Andaman Sea to the south of Tavoy on the 20th. On the 21st its centre was about midway between Tavoy and the Andaman Islands. Between the morning of the 22nd and the morning of the 24th observations at the coast stations gave little or no information as to the behaviour of the storm. It continued to move for at least 24 hours in a north westerly direction, it then probably began to recurve, moving at a lower rate. When the direction became north or north east, the rate of advance increased, and during the 24th the centre appears to have moved with about average velocity. On the evening of the 24th the centre of the depression crossed the Chittagong coast a few miles to the south of the Karnafuli river.	Bengal and Andaman coasts
8	November 4th to 7th	Shallow depression formed in the south of the Bay about the 4th. Squally weather was general over the southern area as the wind was increasing in strength and the sea rising at Diamond Island and in the south of Madras. On the 6th the squally weather was more towards the west, and on the 7th it was moderating, on the 8th it became diffused.	Coromandel coast.
9	November 17th to 24th ...	Severe storm generated in the south east of the Bay about the 17th. The centre of the storm was probably at some distance to the south of Diamond Island, as, though wind velocity steadily increased, there was no sea swell till the 19th, when the high wind velocity of 60 miles an hour was recorded. The storm moved slowly westwards, and slowly moderated.	Circars and Coromandel coasts
10	December 7th and 8th .	Shallow depression formed in the south of the Bay. Squally weather with increasing wind and rough sea prevailed on the Madras coast on the 7th. On the 8th the squally weather moderated and was confined to the extreme south.	South India and Coromandel coasts
11	December 22nd to 28th .	Cyclonic storm originated in the east of the Bay about the 22nd, and after causing strong winds as far north as Diamond Island on the 24th, it moved westward, apparently towards the Ceylon coast. As far as could be inferred from the coast observations, stormy weather prevailed over a wide area, and the course taken by the centre continued for some time to be westerly. As the depression approached the west coast, it turned northwards and moved into the centre of the Bay where it began to break up about the 28th.	Ditto ditto

RESULT OF THE EXAMINATION FOR ADMISSION TO THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF THE PROVINCIAL CIVIL SERVICE AND THE SUBOR-DINATE CIVIL SERVICE

No. 824A.—D.

RESOLUTION.

APPOINTMENT

Dated Darjeeling, the 1st July 1898

READ—

The Resolution of the 3rd May 1897, reviewing the result of the examination held in that year, and appointing candidates to be probationers in the Executive branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service.

The Notification of the 30th September 1897, publishing rules for the examination of 1898, for admission to the Executive branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service

The Reports of the Examiners at the examination held on the 30th and 31st March and 1st and 2nd April 1898

The seven Probationary Deputy Collectors and seven Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors appointed on the result of the examination held in 1897 have all been absorbed into officiating or substantive pro tempore appointments. The policy of promoting deserving Sub Deputy Collectors to officiate as Deputy Collectors has been adhered to.

2 In September last it was notified that at the examination to be held this year three candidates would be selected for Probationary Deputy Collectorships on a subsistence allowance of Rs 50 a month, and four for Probationary Sub Deputy Collectorships on a subsistence allowance of Rs 30 a month. It was announced that two Probationary Deputy Collectorships would be given to the first two candidates on the list in order of merit, that one would be selected by the Lieutenant Governor from amongst those who had obtained a minimum of one-third of the total marks, and that from the remainder of those who have qualified by obtaining one third of the total marks, the Lieutenant-Governor would select four more candidates as probationers for Sub-Deputy Collectorships.

3 The examination was held on the 30th and 31st of March and the 1st and 2nd of April last. Eighty-five applicants obtained permission to compete, and of these 84 (all of whom except three were graduates) actually appeared and sent in papers. Of the latter, only 5 were Muhammadans, 11 Bihari Hindus, and 1 Uriya. The total number of candidates who obtained one third marks was 71. In view of the great number of officers already in the Executive branch of the Provincial and Subordinate Civil Service, and of the necessity of curtailing recruitment in order to prevent a block in promotion hereafter, only three and four candidates are selected for appointment as Probationary Deputy Collectors and Sub Deputy Collectors, respectively, as advertised.

4 The following two candidates who stood first in order of merit are entitled to, and will receive, appointments as Probationary Deputy Collectors —

	Number of marks
Babu Purna Chandra Maulik, M A., B L. ... ..	562
„ Sris Chandra Basu, B A .. ..	544

5 The following candidate has been selected by the Lieutenant-Governor for appointment as a Probationary Deputy Collector after careful consideration of the number of marks obtained, the claims upon Government of members of the candidate's family, the interests of the different classes of the community, and the requirements of the public service.—

Maulvi Abu Nasr Muhammad Ali, B A.

6 These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs 50 per mensem, and if the report from the districts in which they are stationed is favourable, they will, after such period of probation as may seem advisable, be appointed to be Officiating Deputy Magistrates and Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. They will not be vested with magisterial powers until they are so appointed. Separate orders will now be passed posting these officers to districts.

7. The following are the four candidates selected by the Lieutenant-Governor from among those who have obtained one-third marks to be Probationary Sub-Deputy Collectors:—

Babu Niral Krishna Ray, B.A.
„ Sisir Kumar Chatterjee, B.A.

Babu Kandhji Sahay, B.A.
Mr O O Pereira.

8. These probationary officers will receive a subsistence allowance of Rs. 30 per mensem at present, and will, if they are satisfactorily reported on, be gradually absorbed in the fourth grade of Sub-Deputy Collectors as vacancies occur. Separate orders will at once be passed posting them to districts.

ORDER —Ordered that a copy of the above Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. W. BOLTON,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The maximum possible number of hours of sunshine 94.2

The mean temperature of the seven days 84.1

The average temperature of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor-General's Office 83.8

The extreme variation of temperature 20.3

The total fall from 1st January to 2nd July 1898 11.95

The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, Surveyor-General's Office 22.63

The mean pressure, temperature &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore 0 03 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0 5° higher, and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0 6 higher than the Kew Standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making
Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th July, 1898

No 5 OF 1898

A Bill to further amend the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884

WHEREAS it is expedient to further amend the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884 (the remainder referred to as "the said Act"), it is hereby enacted as follows

1 (1) This Act may be called the Inland Steam-vessels Act (1884) Amendment Act, 1898, and

(2) It shall come into force at once

2 To the heading to Chapter VI of the said Act the words "AND FROM COLLISION" shall be added

3 After section 50 of the said Act the following section shall be added, namely
Addition of new section after section 50, Act VI, 1884

50A (1) The Local Government may make rules for the protection of inland steam vessels from collision

"(2) Rules under this section may regulate the following among other matters, that is to say

- (a) the making of sound-signals,
- (b) the carriage of lights and the exhibition of the same by night,
- (c) the steering rules to be observed, and
- (d) the towing of vessels astern or along-side

"(3) Any rule under this section may contain a provision that any person committing a breach of it shall be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine which may extend to five hundred rupees, or with both."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE necessity for rules for the protection from collision of inland steam-vessels, whether carrying passengers or not, was recently brought to the notice of the Government of India, and it was found that the Inland Steam-vessels Act, 1884 (VI of 1884), did not confer the requisite powers for this purpose. The object of this Bill is to further amend the Act of 1884 so as to admit of the issue of appropriate regulations on the subject

Dec 1st	95	8vo dy	1st..	500	ditto ...	0 12 0	The Author	A religious novel, being a story of renunciation in high life. A young man, named Indubhusan, who was the owner of a princely estate in the district of Murshadabad, suddenly realises the vanity of the mundane existence, leaves his home unobserved and unaccompanied, and becomes a sannyási An old servant of his family, named Haladhar, who took paternal interest in him, starts in quest of him and meets him in a temple at Nálhát, dedicated to the goddess Lalátesvari. His entreaties and persuasions, however, failed to change the young man's mind, and the old man had to come back disappointed. Indu took his initiation from a well known Bráhmí named Vanamáli, and made up his mind to forswear the world for good. His devoted wife Hindolalati next sought him out at Vrindaban, but failed to change his mind Here the young man passed away in a state of mahásamadhi, and obtained his summum bonum The book is written from the standpoint of Hindu orthodoxy, and teaches the lesson that salvation can only be obtained by renouncing the joys and enjoyments of the world.	5122

Nov 26th	180	12mo dy 1st		1,000	Printed	0 10 0	The Author, Khatnagar, Burdwan.	A story of love and adventure relating to Sarayd's marriage with Devendra Nāth and Indi mukhi's marriage with Nagen dranāth Devendra and Nagen dra were mutual friends, who succeeded after years of trouble and adventure to obtain the hands of their respective object of love. The girls had also their share of adventure and travelled far and near in quest of their would be husbands. The story is very indifferently got up, and told without much art or skill.	112
Dec 23th	170	8vo dy 1st		1,000	ditto.	0 12 0	The Author, Chandra kōndā, Midnapur	Is an interesting historical novel, of which the scene is laid in the Parganā Bogri of the Midnapur district, and the incidents relate to the rebellion	5124
of Naiks under Achal Singh in the beginning of the present century. The historical portion of the plot is taken from the Archaeological Report, No 207 for 1872-73, submitted by the late Sir Henry Harrison, then Magistrate of Midnapur, to the Commissioner of Burdwan. The plot is as follows.—A girl named Kamalā and her father Mathurā nath, while on their way to Midnapur, were set upon by Achal Singh's men and taken to the Naik camp in the forest of Gaugan near Garbatā. Here the father obtained leave to go home and return with the money demanded as ransom for his daughter. During his absence from the camp Kamalā strikes up an acquaintance with Achal Singh's daughter, Chāmelī, which matures into friendship within a few days. In the meanwhile, the English advance on the camp and defeat the Naik army. Achal Singh, with a few followers, swam across the river Silāvatī to a place of safety, where he continued to defy the authorities for a time, until seized and made over to Government by Chhatra Singh, his former master and chief of Bogri. He was tried, found guilty and executed. His daughter Chāmelī had also plunged into the river with her father, but failing to reach the bank, was carried down the river by the current and deposited on a chur, where she was picked up and taken care of by a sannyāsī. The sannyāsī was no other than Kamalā's husband, named Sasisekhar, who had renounced the world in sorrow and disgust on hearing of his wife's detention at the Naik camp. Here she was joined by her lover and her father's adopted son, Vīra Singh, who fought with Achal Singh and happened to escape with his life after his defeat. The three people then started to meet Achal Singh on the execution ground, where the daughter took leave of her father, and where they were unexpectedly joined by Mathurānāth and taken by him to his house. Kamalā had already been there, having left the Naik camp in company with Chāmelī on the eve of the battle, and reached her home safe in company of her father. Vīra Singh was married to Chāmelī, while Sasisekhar, whose suspicions about her wife's conduct during her detention in the Naik camp had been dispelled by Chāmelī, was reconciled to his wife, and the two couples lived happily. Kamalā was called Sāl-phul (Sāl flower) by Chāmelī in obedience to a custom prevalent among Bengali ladies of calling each other by the name of some fruit or flower in token of friendship. Hence the name of the book. The plot is well conceived and well-executed, and some of the characters, specially those of Achal Singh and Chāmelī, are well-drawn.
Dec 6th	204	8vo dy 1st		1,000	ditto ..	1 0 0	The publisher	A story of love and adventure relating to Prabhāvatī's marriage with Hemanta Kumār and Tilottamā's marriage with Kumār Bhupendra Narāyan. Prabhāvatī was the daughter of the Rājā of Alāti near Burdwan and Tilotta	117
mā, her relative and companion. The former was abducted by certain sannyāsīs near her father's house and kept at Deoghar, whence she was rescued by a Brahman youth of Murshedabad, named Hemantakumār, who happened to be there in the course of a tour of pilgrimage. Tilottamā was betrothed to one Krishna Chandra, whom she intensely disliked and secretly married Bhupendra Narāyan, son of the Rājā of Bhabanipur. For this Bhupendra mourned the displeasure of Krishnachandra and well-nigh lost his life at the hands of an assassin near Deoghar. But Hemanta was there, and his timely aid saved the prince from an untimely death. By this act of humanity Hemanta made Krishna his mortal enemy, and strange vicissitudes befel him and Prabhāvatī before they were able to finally get rid of him. He was in early life attached to a girl of the Binnā caste, named Kusuma. And as he could not marry her, he left home with a vow to lead an unmarried life. In the meantime Kusuma went mad through disappointment and re-appeared after a while as the chief begum of Kutābuddin, who was then on his way to Burdwan, with the object of securing for the Emperor the beautiful wife of Sher Afghan, afterwards the famous Nur Jahan. Now, Kusuma could not forget her early lover, and aided him naturally in escaping the snares of Krishna. Her conversion to Muhamadanism absolved Hemanta from his vow of celibacy and he married Prabhāvatī whom he rescued from her abductors. He and Bhupendra distinguished themselves in the battle against Sher Afghan, and by that means obtained imperial favour and lived a happy life. The book is indifferently written.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE LEGAL AFFAIRS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1897-98.

No. 3211J
JUDICIAL

Dated Calcutta, the 9th July 1898

READ—

The report on the Legal Affairs of the Government of Bengal for the year 1897-98

Read also—

The reports of the two previous years, and the orders of Government recorded thereon

Mr. Wilkins was in charge of the office of Legal Remembrancer from the beginning of the year to the 26th April. Mr Pratt officiated as Legal Remembrancer from the 27th April to 18th November 1897 and from the 17th February 1898 to the end of the year. During the interval, from 19th November 1897 to 16th February 1898, Mr. B. L. Gupta officiated. The report is submitted by Mr. Brett, the present Officiating Legal Remembrancer. No case of great importance to the Government was decided during the year.

2 Of the three cases shown last year as pending before the Privy Council, one is still undisposed of. Two analogous cases relating to proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act of 1870 have been decided in favour of the Secretary of State. The land in question had been road-way for very many years, but it was argued for the claimant that, as it had been broken up on acquisition before the actual award of compensation for other plots of the estate was made, it had acquired value, and compensation for it should, therefore, have been granted. The Privy Council, however, confirming the decision of the High Court, held that the right of compensation attached at the time of acquisition, that any change in the condition of the land between such time and the actual award of compensation could not be taken into account, and that no compensation was, therefore, payable.

3. The table below compares the results of Government litigation in all the Civil Courts of Bengal during 1897-98, with those of the two preceding years --

1	Original suits			APPEALS-- Before Lower Courts			APPEALS-- Before High Court			Total			REMARKS
	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.

Excluding cases under the Land Acquisition Act, the figures are as follows --

1	Original suits.					APPEALS--		APPEALS--		Total			REMARKS
						Before Lower Courts		Before High Court
	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.	1895-96.	1896-97.	1897-98.

There was an increase compared with last year under all heads.

4. In the High Court 33 cases were decided in favour of, and 3 against, the Government, and 4 were compromised, remanded or withdrawn. The percentage of successful cases, 91.6, is higher than in either of the two preceding years, and is certainly satisfactory. In the Lower Appellate Courts the percentage of successful cases was 83.6. The Legal Remembrancer, it is noted, in showing the percentage of successful cases, counts two or more analogous cases decided against the Government as one case. The same method of calculation should apparently be adopted for cases decided in favour of the Government, in order that the correct percentage of success may be obtained. In the Courts of first instance 31 cases are shown as having been decided against Government. Details are given of only 27 of these, of 4 no mention is made. In the case of Jodhan Patidar versus the Secretary of State, the Collector will be asked to explain how the sum in question came to be wrongfully demanded, and why the mistake, when discovered, was not corrected before recourse was had by the plaintiff to the Civil Court. It would seem also that in the two suits of Jaganath Phadad and Mookham and another versus the Secretary of State, the plaintiffs need not have been forced to resort to the Civil Court. The attention of the Revenue Department will be drawn to the case of Saduddin versus the Secretary of State. The Legal Remembrancer is requested to obtain and submit a copy of the decision of the Munsif of Barrabazar in the suit brought by Government against Sarat Chandra Saikar and another. The percentage of successful cases in the Courts of first instance was 82.1. This exceeded the percentage of either of the two preceding years.

5. The following statement shows the result of Court of Wards litigation during the last three years.—

	1895-96	1896-97	1897-98
1	2	3	4
Decided in favour of the Court of Wards	1,839	2,206	3,041
Decided against the Court of Wards ...	149	162	183
Compromised, remanded or withdrawn ...	188	159	249
Percentage decided in favour of the Court of Wards	92.5	93.1	94.3

If no allowance is made for analogous cases, the percentage of successful cases in the High Court was only 48. This is a very small percentage, but the number of cases was small.

In the Lower Appellate Courts the percentage, 76.5, is more satisfactory.

In the Courts of first instance 95.7 per cent. of the cases out of a total of 3,246 cases were successful. This result is approximately the same as in the previous year. Most of the cases were, as usual, of a petty nature.

6. The following table shows the amount due under decrees which was realised by Government during the year, as compared with the two previous years.—

	1895-96	1896-97	1897-98
1	2	3	4
Brought forward from last year ...	Rs 28,692	Rs 41,435	Rs 43,057
Decreed during the year	38,496	22,196	33,311
Total amount due	67,188	63,631	76,368
Amount realized	25,753	20,571	21,084
Percentage of amount recovered to total amount due ..	39.3	32.3	27.6

The percentage of realisation was lower than in either of the two previous years. The outstanding balance is divided among many districts, the principal reasons given for failure to realise being that appeals are pending against the decrees or that the judgment-debtors are paying by instalments or have died without leaving property. Greater exertion to realise from the judgment-debtors who have property is evidently needed in some districts and should be made. In the revised rules for the conduct of civil suits now under the consideration of Government, it is prescribed that enquiry shall always be made as to whether there are grounds for proceeding against the defendant or plaintiff as the case may be, under sections 477, 483 or 380 of the Civil Procedure Code. The large amounts outstanding suggest that sufficient use has not hitherto been made of these sections.

7 The realisations under decrees granted to the Court of Wards during the last three years are shown below —

	1895 96	1896 97	1897 98.
	Rs.	Rs	Rs
Brought forward from last year	7,31,944	7,05,029	5,89,238
Decreed during the year ... . .	2,27,507	1,23,285	3,06,483
Total amount due	9,59,451	8,28,314	8,95,721
Amount realized	2,54,422	2,39,076	2,70,616
Percentage of amount recovered to amount due	26 5	28 8	30 2

The percentage of recoveries was a trifle better than in the previous years, but cannot be regarded as satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets again to observe that seven districts have failed to submit their reports despite successive reminders. This will be brought to the notice of the Board of Revenue.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Superintendent and Remembrancer of Legal Affairs and to the Solicitor to Government for information.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1898

At the beginning of the month of June pressure was everywhere in excess of the normal, the difference being most marked in the north of the province. The distribution over the Bay was extremely uniform, and wind direction was generally normal except off Diamond Island, where north-west winds prevailed. Weather which had been slightly unsettled at the end of the previous month became finer, and rainfall was light and scattered. A sharp fall of pressure began about the 4th of the month, decreasing from north to south, and the readings began to approach the normal. Pressure gradients became gradually steeper near the south of the Bay, and general conditions were such as usually precede the slow advance of the monsoon current. Though the sea, however, was rough at Colombo, and the pressure differences between the south and the head of the Bay were increasing, the actual advance of the moisture laden masses of air forming the monsoon current was slow, and fine weather continued to prevail over the province.

The general direction of the isobars had remained practically unchanged during the early period of the month, a shallow diffused area of low pressure having maintained its position over Orissa, Chota Nagpur and Bihar. Into this shallow depression was drawn from all sides the winds which drew their ever increasing moisture from the advancing monsoon. The first signs of the approaching rainy season appeared in a few heavy showers which were precipitated from the moisture-laden air in the north of the province on the 10th and 11th of June, and whose early occurrence was partially due to the formation of a small local depression in Bihar.

The disturbances, however, which heralded the actual burst of the monsoon began to form off the Orissa Coast on the 13th of the month. From the 13th to the 14th, this depression developed into a well-marked cyclonic storm of moderate intensity, the centre being at a point at some distance to the south-east of Gopalpur.

During the 14th the storm which had not increased in depth passed slowly to the north crossing the coast in the immediate neighbourhood of False Point. The winds to the front of the advancing storm were of usual of moderate force but in the southern quadrant strong westerly gales were experienced. During the 15th the depression which remained unchanged in form and intensity still continued to move slowly in a northerly direction, but assuming a curved path probably owing to the influence of the hills in the interior of Orissa emerged again on the evening of that day. As the direction in which it had now been deflected was more easterly, the centre on the morning of the 16th was almost directly over Saigon Island.

During the next three days the storm continued to move in a direction almost due north with extreme slowness and little change in depth, so tenacious in fact was the storm which in this as in other respects (though not in intensity) resembled closely the corresponding storm of 1893, that it did not finally break up until it struck the lower ranges of the Himalayas on the 19th of the month. Heavy rainfall accompanied the storm, especially on the western and eastern fringes, but Calcutta, which lay almost on the central line of the path, received but little rain. Bihar too was only slightly affected, and though heavy rain fell in North Bengal, Darjeeling reported a comparatively small rainfall. The heaviest falls took place in the district round Bankura, and one of the unfortunate results of the storm was the heavy flooding of the Mduapore district, and the consequent loss of life and property which the inhabitants suffered.

With the final disappearance of the storm, weather became gradually more settled, but heavy rain continued to fall for the next few days in North Bengal, Assam and Burma. Pressure did not recover, however, till the 23rd June, when there was a general rise, especially in the north of the province. The defect had, however, been so considerable that even now readings were everywhere below the normal. From this date, however, with slight local variations a gradual rise took place until on the 25th, barometer readings differed but slightly from the normal except in Burma. Owing to the deficiency of pressure in Burma, a change had taken place in the relative distribution, and the isobars which up to this time had been running steadily from south-west to north-east now followed a direction from west to east across the Bay. With the rising barometer and the falling off in the monsoon current weather became comparatively fine, though heavy rainfall continued in Burma and Assam. Pressure changed but little during the latter days of the month, though small oscillations were frequent. A gradual change in relative distribution had, however, been taking place, and on the 20th of June with high readings in the south of the Bay, and a comparatively low barometer in the north, conditions had again become favourable for the advance of the monsoon current, and though rainfall was still scattered, some heavy falls were reported, and signs were not wanting that bad weather would soon again become general.

Pressure—Though pressure was high at the beginning of the month, it soon fell to the normal, about which position it oscillated till the storm of the 13th, where a sharp fall took place. After this it remained low, and it was only towards the latter part of the month that a recovery took place. Mean pressure of the month was consequently below the normal everywhere.

Temperature was in defect at the beginning of the month, but soon began to rise except in South-West Bengal, so that for the period from the 1st to the 10th, readings were generally in excess except in the last mentioned district. From this date onwards a general fall took place, till on the 18th mean temperatures were everywhere below the normal, and continued to be so till the final disappearance of the storm. With the passing away of the disturbed weather, temperature again began to rise, and as this increase continued steadily and for the most part generally till the 28th, heat soon became excessive, as much as 11° above the normal being recorded at Gaya. On the 29th the rise in temperature received a check, and on the 30th readings, though slightly irregular, did not differ much from the normal. The result of these variations has been that for the month average temperature has been slightly in defect in the central and south-west parts of the province, as likewise in the greater part of North Bihar, while elsewhere the average has been above the normal. Where there has been defect in normal mean temperature it has been almost invariably due to a corresponding defect in both day and night temperature, and a similar remark applies to cases of excess, so that the regions of high and low normal mean temperatures coincide almost exactly with those of high and low maximum and minimum, respectively.

Rainfall—Taking the six divisions of the province we find that rainfall has been considerably above the average in four of them, i.e., South-West Bengal, North Bengal, East Bengal, and Chota Nagpur, while in Bihar and Orissa it has fallen short by twenty and twenty-five per cent, respectively. The abundant rain which has been received has brought up the average rainfall for the six months from the 1st of January to practically to normal amount for South-West and North Bengal and Chota Nagpur, but the other divisions are still deficient for this period, more especially Orissa, where the percentage is only 65.

The abundant rainfall in Bengal and Chota Nagpur was distributed fairly evenly over the whole country, with the exception that in South-West Bengal, the districts in the immediate vicinity of Calcutta and also Jessore and Khulna received less than usual, while in North Bengal, Darjeeling fell considerably below the average. The actual returns for the month are South-West Bengal 124 per cent, North Bengal 114 per cent, East Bengal 122 per cent, and Chota Nagpur 150 per cent.

Summary—The greatest interest in the weather report for June naturally attaches to the circumstances attending the advance and development of the monsoon current in the Bay. For several years the setting in of the monsoon has been distinguished by somewhat unusual features. In the present year, however, the antecedent and accompanying weather conditions have been entirely normal. During the first-half of the month, the weather was distinguished by the high temperature characteristic of the last struggle of the hot weather for existence. South to south-east winds gradually obtained complete dominion over the province, while the ever increasing moisture, with which they had been reinforced from the south, brought about an almost complete saturation of the atmosphere. Cloud proportion steadily increased in amount, and finally the formation of a small cyclonic storm at the head of the Bay led to the precipitation of the moisture and the bursting of the monsoon over the province.

These were the leading features of the first-half of the month. During the latter half heavy rain fell up to the 21st or 22nd, while during the last nine days of the month there was a temporary lull, not amounting to an actual break, which, however, showed signs in the last days of the month of coming to an end and giving place to a further period of ordinary monsoon weather.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast, g, gloomy, d, drizzling rain, p, passing temporary showers.

If the right claimed is disputed by the landlord, the Revenue Officer shall call on the claimants for proof of such right

Present rule

15 The Revenue Officer shall ascertain which of the raiyats are settled raiyats or occupancy raiyats, as the case may be, and shall record them as such, having regard to the presumption of section 20 (7) of the Tenancy Act in favour of the settled status

Present rule

16 The Revenue Officer shall ascertain what raiyats are non-occupancy, and to this end he shall be entitled to call upon the landlord or his agent to produce a statement showing the names of the raiyats alleged by him to be non occupancy raiyats. On production of such statement, the Revenue Officer shall explain to the raiyats whose names are entered in the statement, and who have not already been recorded as occupancy or settled raiyats, the nature of the presumption raised by section 20 (7) of the Act. If, after such explanation, a raiyat admits himself to be a non-occupancy raiyat, he shall be recorded as such. If he does not admit himself to be a non-occupancy raiyat, the Revenue Officer shall call on the landlord to prove the allegation made by him in regard to such raiyat.

17 Abwabs shall not be recorded. Cesses which are authorized by law shall be recorded separately from the rent in the khatian.

Present rule

18 The Revenue Officer shall summarily ascertain the tenant's present rent, and record it in the appropriate column of the khatian as the rent payable in respect of the land held by the tenant.

Present rule

19 When the record of rights and of existing rents has been prepared and attested in the manner prescribed in rules 11 to 18 above, and when the record shall have been arranged and corrected in accordance with the orders which the Revenue Officer may have passed, he shall record a proceeding in which he shall state that attestation of the records of the village has been completed, and shall then cause the draft record of rights to be published in the village in the manner provided in Rule 20, below.

Rule 19, modified

V—DRAFT PUBLICATION OF THE RECORD

20 (a) As soon as the record of rights has been prepared and attested, a notice shall be posted up at the landlord's office in the village or in the presence of not less than two persons, in some conspicuous place in the village, stating that the draft of the record will be published in the village on a day to be specified, not less than a week from the date of such notice, and calling on all persons interested to attend on the date so specified provided that the draft of the record shall not be published until the proceeding under rule 19 has been recorded.

Rule 29 (a), modified

(b) On the date fixed for draft publication, the Revenue Officer shall either proceed to the village himself, and read the contents of the record in the presence of the parties who attend, or he shall depute an officer, not below the rank of kanungo, who shall read out the contents of the record in the presence of so many of the parties as attend, and the Revenue Officer or officer deputed by him, as the case may be, shall at the same time inform the parties who attend that the draft record will be open for inspection for not less than one month in the office of the Revenue Officer, or in such other convenient place as the Revenue Officer may determine. The Revenue Officer shall receive and consider any objection which may be made to any entry during the period named.

Rule 29 (b)

VI—DISPOSAL OF OBJECTIONS UNDER SECTION 103A

21 When an objection is made within and before the expiry of the period of publication of the draft record prescribed under rule 20 (b) above, regarding the correctness of an entry or as to the propriety of any omission, notice of the objection shall be served on all persons whose interests may, in the opinion of the Revenue Officer, be affected thereby, and they shall be called upon to attend at such time and place as the Revenue Officer may fix for the disposal of the objection. If no person attends to contest the objection, the record may be amended accordingly, or the person who made the objection may, if the Revenue Officer thinks fit, be called upon to produce evidence in support of his objection.

Rule 30, modified

All such objections shall be dealt with summarily under such instructions as the Board of Revenue may prescribe.

VII—SETTLEMENT OF FAIR RENTS IN CASES IN WHICH A SETTLEMENT OF REVENUE IS BEING OR IS ABOUT TO BE MADE

22 (a) In the case of a settlement of fair rents under Part II of Chapter X of the Bengal Tenancy Act, when a settlement of revenue is being or is about to be made, the Revenue Officer shall serve a notice by proclamation and beat of drum, and by posting it in the presence of not less than two persons in some conspicuous place in the village comprising the lands under settlement. The notice shall be in such form as may be approved by the Board of Revenue, and shall set forth that on a date named and at a place named the Revenue Officer will settle fair rents in respect of all estates, tenures or holdings, and for unsettled lands included in such village. A schedule may be appended to the notice, giving the names and numbers of all estates, tenures and holdings paying revenue or rent to Government, and particulars of unsettled lands for which rent will be settled. If it be proved that this notice was served at least one week previous to the date fixed for settlement of fair rents, it shall be held that all persons have been sufficiently warned of the date fixed.

Rules 20(a) and (b) and 24 (2), modified

New

(b) Provided that in cases in which a table of rates is prepared under the provisions of section 104B, the notice shall not be published until the table of rates has been confirmed under sub-section (5) of that section.

New, see section 104D

23 A table of rates shall not ordinarily be prepared when it is found that the tenants of the local area in question hold their lands at lump rentals, and no rates actually exist, or when the rates are so numerous and varied, and are so little dependent on the class of soil, that no table of existing rates can be prepared. When the above conditions do not obtain, and it is possible to prepare a table of existing rates which are of a tolerably uniform character and in accordance with certain ascertainable classes of soil, the provisions of section 104A (c) may be applied.

New section 104D

24 When the Revenue Officer has decided to settle all rents in any local area on the basis of a table of rates, under section 104A (c), he shall first prepare a table of existing rates, and shall then proceed to enhance or reduce those rates, having regard to the principles laid down in the Act for the enhancement or reduction of the rents of occupancy raiyats.

New section 104D

25 The table of rates finally prepared by the Revenue Officer, and published by him under section 104B (2), shall contain the particulars noted in section 104B (1) and shall show—

(a) the classes of soil as locally known, that have been adopted in the fixation of rates,

(b) The area, expressed in local measure, for which each rate is fixed, and

(c) the rate fixed for that area of land of each class of soil.

New, section 104B(3)

26 The Revenue Officer shall briefly record the grounds of his final order in every case in which he disposes of an objection to a table of rates under section 104B (4).

New, section 104B(4)

27 In submitting his proceedings to the confirming authority under section 104B (4), the Revenue Officer shall describe briefly the soil classification adopted by him for the purposes of his table of rates, and shall show in tabular form the rates which were found by him to exist for the classes of soil described, and the rates he proposes to substitute for the existing rates, explaining in each case his grounds for enhancing or reducing the existing rates.

New, see section 104B(2)

28 When a table of rates has been prepared under section 104B, sub-section (1), a copy of it shall be posted up at the landlord's office in the village, or in the presence of not less than two persons, together with a notice, in such form as may be approved by the Board of Revenue, stating that any person who objects to any entry in the table of rates may present a petition to the Revenue Officer on the subject, within one month of the date of the publication of the table of rates, which will be duly considered under section 104B (4).

New, see section 104B(4)

29. The following Revenue authorities are empowered under section 104B (4) to confirm tables of rates and rent-rolls prepared under the Act—

(a) When the rents to which the table of rates is to be applied, or which are to be entered in the settlement rent-roll, do not amount to Rs 1,000, (1) in all cases in which the preparation of a table of rates and the settlement of fair rents under this part have been made over, under rule 1 (b) or (c) above, to an Assistant Settlement Officer, the Settlement Officer, and (2) in all other cases, the Collector or other officer to whom the Settlement Officer is immediately subordinate

- (b) When the total rents in question exceed Rs 1,000, but do not amount to Rs 10,000, the Commissioner or the Director of Land Records, as the Board may decide
- (c) When the total rents in question exceed Rs 10,000, the Board

30. (a) On the date fixed in Rule 22 above, or on any subsequent date to which the proceedings may be adjourned, the Revenue Officer shall read, or cause to be read, aloud, the name of each tenant whose rent has to be settled, the area of his tenancy and the existing rent, and shall proceed to settle a fair rent for every such tenant under the provisions of section 104A(1) or section 104C.

Rule 22(a) modified

(b) Provided that when a Revenue Officer proposes to alter an existing rent, and the parties have not attended in compliance with the general notice prescribed in Rule 22 above, the Revenue Officer shall serve each person interested with a special notice, and the fair rent shall not be settled in the absence of such person until after due service of such special notice has been proved.

Rule 22(iv), modified

31 The settlement rent roll shall contain the particulars prescribed in section 104A(2), and the fair rent settled for each tenant shall be entered in it by the Revenue Officer himself at the time that such rent is settled.

New

32 As soon as the settlement rent roll has been prepared, a copy of it shall be posted up at the landlord's office in the village, or in the presence of not less than two persons together with a notice, in such form as may be approved by the Board of Revenue, stating that any person who objects to any entry in the settlement rent roll or omission therefrom may present a petition to the Revenue Officer on the subject within one month of the date of the publication of the settlement rent roll, which will be duly considered under section 104E.

New, see section 104A(1)

33 All objections presented under rule 29 or Rule 32 above shall be dealt with in accordance with the provisions of Rule 21 above in the same way as objections presented under section 103A. An appeal presented under section 104G(1) shall lie to the officer to whom the Revenue Officer who has passed the order appealed against is immediately subordinate whether he be another Revenue Officer appointed under the designation of Settlement Officer, or the Collector of the District, or the Commissioner of the Division or the Director of Land Records and Agriculture. Provided that a second appeal shall lie from any order on appeal passed by a Settlement Officer or Collector under the above rule to the confirming authority appointed under Rule 29(6) above, and that, when the proposed annual rental of any tenancy exceed 100 rupees per annum, a final appeal shall in all cases lie to the Board of Revenue.

New, see sections 104B(1) and 104G(1)

34 As soon as the settlement rent roll has been sanctioned by the confirming authority, it shall be incorporated in the record of rights by the entry of the fair rents settled in a column of the khatian to be set apart for that purpose.

New, see section 104F

VII — FINAL PUBLICATION OF THE RECORD OF RIGHTS

35 When all objections under section 103A have been disposed of as provided for in Rule 21 above and in cases in which a settlement of revenue is being or is about to be made, the settlement rent roll has been incorporated in the record of rights, as provided in Rule 34, and the Revenue Officer has corrected the draft record in accordance with the orders passed by him on such objections or in the course of the preparation of the settlement rent roll, he shall finally frame the record and cause it to be published by notifying that its contents will be read out in the village on a date to be specified not less than a week from the date of such notice, and by reading it out himself or causing it to be read in the village on the date so specified, in the manner prescribed in Rule 20 in the presence of the parties or of so many of them as attend.

With the consent of the Revenue Officer, any number of tenants occupying land under the same landlord in the same village may make a joint application for the settlement of rents, or may be joined as defendants in the same proceeding on a similar application by the landlord provided that if at any time it shall appear to the Revenue Officer that the question between any two of the parties of whom one is so joined with others cannot conveniently be so jointly tried, he may order a separate trial to be held of that question, or he may pass such other order, in accordance with the Civil Procedure Code, for the joint or separate disposal of the application as he may think fit

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was introduced and read in the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, on the 23rd July, 1898, and is hereby published for information, together with a Statement of Objects and Reasons —

A Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890

Preamble WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, It is hereby enacted as follows — Ben. III of 1890

Short title and commencement. 1 (1) This Act may be called the Calcutta Port (Amendment) Act, 1898; and

(2) It shall come into force on the day on which it is first published in the Calcutta Gazette after having received the assent of the Governor General

Amendment of Bengal Act III, 1890, section 112. 2 For section 112 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, the following shall be substituted, namely —

“112. (1) The responsibility of the Commissioners for the loss, destruction or deterioration of animals or goods, whether landed for import or received for export or for carriage by railway, during such time as the same remain in the possession or under the control of the Commissioners, shall, subject to the other provisions of this Act, and, in the case of animals or goods received for carriage by railway, subject also to the provisions of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, be that of a bailee under sections 151, 152 and 161 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, omitting the words “in the absence of any special contract” in section 152 of the last-mentioned Act [Of Act IX, 1890, s. 72]

IX of 1890

IX of 1872

(2) With the previous sanction of the Local Government, and under such circumstances and conditions as the Local Government may prescribe, the Commissioners may enter into an agreement relating to animals or goods landed for import or received for export or for carriage by railway, which may impose upon the Commissioners a greater responsibility than that imposed by sub-section (1)

(3) Every such agreement must be in writing and must be signed by, or on behalf of, the Commissioners "

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

THE main object of this Bill is to authorize the Commissioners for the Port of Calcutta to make special agreements with respect to goods passing through their hands, by which they would undertake a greater responsibility for loss, destruction or deterioration than that which is imposed upon them by section 112 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890. This object is sought to be attained by sub-sections (2) and (3) of the new section which it is proposed to substitute for section 112 of the Act. The enactment of these sub-sections has been urged upon the Government by the Commissioners as being necessary to the proper working of the scheme, introduced last year, for transferring the export trade of Calcutta from the jetties to the Kidderpore Docks. It is proposed that agreements of the kind in question should be entered into only with the previous sanction of the Local Government and under such circumstances and conditions as the Government may prescribe, and further, that all such agreements should be in writing and duly signed.

Sub-section (1) of the new section which it is proposed to substitute for section 112 of the Act is intended merely to reproduce the existing law, with certain alterations of language which are required to secure precision. The sub-section is based upon sub-section (1) of section 72 of the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE importation into one of the seaports of British India of a cargo of horses from Australia, which proved to be infected with the tick disease—a disease very fatal to cattle and capable of being conveyed by other animals, such as horses, themselves immune from it—led to an examination of the existing legal powers of the Government to prevent the importation of live stock liable to be affected by infectious or contagious disorders. As these powers were found to be defective it has been decided, in consultation with the Governments of Madras, Bombay and Bengal, to take the necessary powers. Instead of amending the Indian Ports Act (X of 1889), it is thought preferable to proceed by way of a self-contained Act.

2 The provisions of the Bill are general in character, and empower the Governor General in Council to regulate, restrict or prohibit the importation into British India by land or sea of any live stock which may be liable to be affected by infectious and contagious disorders. The Bill confers necessary powers on officers of Customs at every port, and enables Local Governments to make rules for detention, inspection, disinfection or destruction of such stock, and for the guidance of officers appointed under the rules.

3 It is not intended to interfere with the inland trade, except so far as to prevent the removal of live-stock, the importation of which has been prohibited, from one part of British India to another.

IRRIGATION OPERATIONS OF CANALS IN BENGAL DURING THE RABI SEASON OF 1897-98

No 804I.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT

Dated Calcutta, the 21st July 1898.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Statement No II, showing the crops irrigated in canal districts in Bengal during the rabi season of 1897-98

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated during the rabi season of 1897-98 was 111,539 acres against 235,020 acres in the previous year, showing a decrease of 123,481 acres, but the year 1896-97 was an exceptional one in which the largest area yet recorded was obtained. Compared with the five years prior to 1896-97, the area of the year under review was only slightly less than the average.

2 The decrease in area between this and the previous year was not due so much to any special cause, such as seasonable rainfall, as to a return to a normal state of affairs after an extraordinary year due to the failure of rainfall and the pressure of famine

3 In the areas commanded by the Midnapore and Saran Canals, there was no demand for canal water during the season.

4 The principal rabi crops irrigated from the Sone Canals were sugarcane, wheat, barley, gram and various pulses, opium, mustard and other crops classed under the head miscellaneous.

5 From the Orissa Canals the principal crops irrigated were dulwa rice, sugarcane, gram, cotton and indigo, and of these the dulwa rice gave the largest area. The crops irrigated from the Eden Canal in the Burdwan and Hooghly districts were potatoes and onions only which covered an area of 847 acres

6 The details of the increase or decrease in the irrigation of the rabi crops from the canals in each district during the year 1897-98, compared with the previous year, are given in the following statement —

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No 86 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Leases under rule 6—VI, will be entered into with representatives of the actual cultivators.

12 No cross dams other than those the erection of which has been sanctioned as a permanent arrangement will be allowed without the written order of the Divisional Canal Officer issued with the written approval of the Collector. Every cross dam must be provided with a suitable and efficient escape, so that the flow of the water in the channel may not be interfered with.

13 The Canal Officer will not interfere with the fishery rights hitherto exercised by the proprietors of the river beds, but no stakes shall be allowed to be fixed for the purpose, excepting on and from the 1st of February to the 31st of March, and then only in such a way as not to interfere with the flow of the water.

RULES AS NOW PROPOSED

12 Leases under rule 6—I, II and III, will only be entered into with (a) the zamindar or subordinate proprietor of the village, and (b) with a body of cultivators not exceeding six in number, who will agree to represent the cultivators, and who will be jointly and severally responsible for the payment of the water-rates due under the lease. Leases under rule 6—IV, will be entered into with representatives of the actual cultivators.

The persons who sign the lease under rule 6—I, II, III and IV, will be entitled to a deduction of 12½ per cent on all payments made within one month of the water-rates becoming due. If the lessee is not the zamindar or talukdar, a moiety of the amount due for the first year will in the case of long and season kharif leases be payable in advance.

13 When it comes to the knowledge of the Sub-divisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken without authority, he shall hold a local investigation and transmit the record thereof to the Divisional Officer, who shall, if he is of opinion that the fields can be legally assessed, fix the rate at which the assessment is to be made and return the record with his orders passed thereon to the Sub-divisional Canal Officer. No assessment under section 79 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876 is to be made without the written orders of the Divisional Canal Officer, and no rates shall be imposed for unauthorized irrigation on lands irrigated without permits beyond the area shown as commanded on the map filed in the Collector's Office under Rule 1.

14 Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted, or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st of June next following.

15 Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, as the case may require, shall be granted by the Divisional Canal Officer for—

I—Errors in the assessment of rates

II—Injury to the crop on a leased area caused by deficient supply of water, provided that a written application for remission has been made 15 days at least before the crop is cut.

16 Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

17 In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is non-realizable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

18. No cross dams other than those the erection of which has been sanctioned as a permanent arrangement will be allowed without the written order of the Divisional Canal Officer. Every cross dam must be provided with a suitable and efficient escape, so that the flow of the water in the channel may not be interfered with.

19. The Canal Officer will not interfere with the fishery rights hitherto exercised by the proprietors of the river beds, but no stakes shall be allowed to be fixed for the purpose, excepting on and from the 1st of February to the 31st of March, and then only in such a way as not to interfere with the flow of the water.

RULES AS NOW PROPOSED

22 The Divisional Canal Officer may supply water for manufacturing or other purposes, and charge for the same at the rate of one rupee for each 10,000 cubic feet or part of 10,000 cubic feet supplied. The same charge will be made if water is taken into a tank without authority or used in an unauthorized manner

23 No person shall, without the permission in writing of the Divisional or Sub-divisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass on or across any of the works, banks or channels of a canal or drainage work after he has been denied to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords and ferries and their approaches as are provided by the Divisional Canal Officer

24 No officer employed on the canals, unless especially exempted by the Lieutenant Governor from the operation of this rule, shall have any interest in the distribution of water from any of the canals, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another or jointly, or in shares with others

25 Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Sub-divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Sub-divisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any orders passed by them in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

14. Any allotment-certificate will, on application to the Comptroller General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations, provided that if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

THE Commissioners of Calcutta are prepared, with the sanction of the Governor General in Council given under Section 404 of Act II (B.C.) of 1888 to open a Debenture Loan for Rs 30,00,000 (thirty lakhs) on the security of the rates, taxes and dues imposed and levied under the Calcutta Municipal Consolidation Act, 1888.

The debentures will have a currency of (19) nineteen years from the 1st December 1898, and will bear interest at the rate of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum payable on the 1st June and the 1st December of each year.

The form of the debentures will be that given in the twelfth Schedule of Act II (B.C.) of 1888.

No debentures will be issued for any sum less than Rs 50 and above that amount debentures will be issued only for multiples of Rs 100.

Tenders for the whole or any part of the above loan of Rs 30,00,000 will be received by the Secretary to the Corporation up to 2 o'clock P.M. on Monday, the 29th August 1898.

Each tender must be made out in the form annexed to this Notification, and enclosed in a sealed cover, addressed to the Secretary to the Corporation, and superscribed—“Tender for Municipal Loan of 1898-99.”

Each tender must be accompanied by an earnest deposit in Government promissory notes, Calcutta Municipal debentures, currency notes or cheques for not less than 5 per cent of the amount tendered.

When a tender is accepted the earnest deposit, when made in currency notes or cheques, will be held as a payment in part of the amount tendered, and will bear interest at the rate of  $4\frac{1}{2}$  per cent per annum from the date of acceptance of the tender, provided that the whole amount tendered is paid up in the manner hereinafter prescribed, but no debenture will be issued for the amount of the earnest deposit so long as the entire amount of the tender is not paid, but debentures may be issued for each instalment paid in full, the earnest deposit not being included in any but the last instalment.

The earnest deposits on tenders which may not be accepted will be returned on application, and no interest will be payable on such deposits. If an allotment after being made is not taken up or the full amount allotted is not paid as hereinafter prescribed, the earnest deposit will be forfeited.

The rate at which a tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas, but not in any fraction of an anna. If a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna. A tender in which the rate is not specified in rupees or rupees and annas will be rejected as null and void.

The whole amount of each allotment will be divided into four equal instalments as follows payable into the Bank of Bengal—

- Instalment I As near as possible to 25 % payable on 17th September 1898
- Instalment II As near as possible to 25 % payable on 3rd October 1898
- Instalment III As near as possible to 25 % payable on 31st October 1898
- Instalment IV As near as possible to 25 % payable on 30th November 1898

(including earnest deposit if in currency note or cheque)

NOTE.—The words “as near as possible” are used in this paragraph for the purpose of making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs 100 for debentures in excess of Rs 50.

Persons whose tenders are accepted will have the option of paying all or any of the instalments before the dates specified above and will receive interest from the date of such payment.

Anticipation interest will be paid on all instalments from the respective dates on which such instalments are paid into the Bank of Bengal to the 30th November 1898.

In the case of two or more tenders at the same lowest rate accepted, a pro rata allotment will be made, but no such allotment will be issued if the amount thus allotable on any tender is less than Rs 500.

15 A minimum having been previously fixed, tenders will be opened by the Loan Committee of the Commissioners at 2.30 P.M. on Monday, the 29th August 1898, at the Municipal Office.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

By DR GEO WATT, C.I.E.

Reporter on Economic Products

The first five volumes and Vol VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs 45 in India and 5 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index for which a separate charge will be made) packing and postage in India 8 annas per volume, for England, Rs 2 6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco Rs 6 and 6 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set. The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral each product being treated after a uniform plan the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names, habitat or source history, properties and uses (both chemical and industrial) trade statistics markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically

according to scientific nomenclature but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross references so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product, even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that it gives information in every instance given under quotation marks and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B and consists of 559 royal 8vo pages. Vol II embraces the letter C in 689 pages. Vol III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G. Vol IV letter half of G to middle of L, and Vol V contains the latter half of L to end of O. Vol VI (which consists of four parts) Part I, contains letters P to R. The work completed in this volume (including Parts II to IV of Vol VI) but a fourth volume has been issued consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index is practically a Glossary of the Vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and, as such, is a work of reference, which, it is hoped, will prove of considerable value.
